

autistica

Science in the Service of Autism

Collaboration with the World Health Organisation

Autistica and The Shirley Foundation have established a collaboration with World Health Organization in the area of child and adolescent mental health. They contributed to the development of the mhGAP Intervention Guide to support scaling up efforts for child mental and developmental disorders including autism. The programme provides technical assistance to low and middle income countries to deliver evidence based interventions for selected mental, neurological and substance use disorders.